Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-6 are presented for examination.

Drawings

2. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because the applicant discloses fig. # 1 as a conventional card reading device in the prior arts section of the specifications (see page 1; paragraph 0002) and only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yiu (U.S. 6,786,415).

Art Unit: 2876

Re claim 1: Yiu discloses memory card connector, which includes a card-reception base [herein discloses as the containing part 11 {see fig. # 1} to receive a card A/B/C from the insertion slot 12; as shown in fig. # 12] having a reception space corresponding to a card to be read with a plurality of contact zones [terminals 151], a card-reception zone [referred as the seat 2] on a first side of the base, and a fastener-reception zone [herein as broadly as interpreted by the examiner as the preventing hook 19] second side of the base 11 (col.4, lines 5+); a card reading portion [through the contact terminals 151] located at the card-reception zone and comprising a plurality of resilient leaves and a flange 213, in which the resilient leaves are located at the bottom face of the card-reception zone and corresponding to the contact zones, while the flange is disposed in parallel with the transverse direction of the card-reception base (col.4, lines 42+); and a push-to-joint portion [means to eject the card through the pressing part 442] having its top face extended to form a protruding portion, being located at the fastener-reception zone in parallel with the transverse direction of the card-reception base (col.6, lines 35+).

Re claim 2: Yiu teaches an apparatus, wherein a groove [herein referred as seat 42] is defined in the bottom face of the fastener-reception zone of the card-reception base; a rail 18 defined on each side of the push-to-joint portion 442; and a fastening hook 192 defined at the tail end of each rail such that the push-to-joint portion 442 is movable in the fastener-reception 19 zone along the groove by the cooperation of the rails and the grooves, and stopped by fastening it to the fastening hooks (col.6, lines 1-55).

Re claim 3: Yiu discloses an apparatus, wherein a resilient member {such as spring 251}, a first protruding rod 261, and a second protruding rod 27 further provided respectively to the card reading device, the fastener-reception zone of the card-reception base 11, and the push-to-joint portion, in which both the first and the second protruding rod are sheathed by the resilient member (col.4, lines 52+).

Re claims 4-6: Yiu teaches an apparatus, wherein the card conforms to the specifications of a Multi Media Card, or Smart Card, or Secure Digital Memory Card (col.5, lines 8+).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Yen (U.S. 6,612,492) teaches four-in-one memory card insertion port.

Chen (U.S. 6,761,320) discloses connector structure for multi-storage media.

Oguchi (US 2001/0053622) teaches card connector device.

Mithuhashi et al. (US 2002/0102883) teaches card connector and elastic contact piece.

Sun (US 2002/0065001) discloses joint socket device for memory cards.
